NATONAL FORENSIC LABORATORY INFORMATION SYSTEM

The Drug Enforcement Administration's (DEA) National Forensic Laboratory Information System (NFLIS) is pleased to release the Special Report: Synthetic Cannabinoids and Synthetic Cathinones Reported in NFLIS, 2009-2010.

This report is available for download at the following link: Special Report: Synthetic Cannabinoids and Synthetic Cathinones, 2009-2010.

This NFLIS Special Report presents findings on two categories of drugs whose abuse has been increasing: synthetic cannabinoids and synthetic cathinones. National estimates for 2009 and 2010 NFLIS data are presented along with State-level reports to NFLIS of both synthetic cannabinoids and synthetic cathinones. Data are also presented from DEA's System To Retrieve Information from Drug Evidence II (STRIDE) and from the American Association of Poison Control Centers (AAPCC).

We wish to thank the over 280 federal, state, and local laboratories that contributed information and made this report possible. We encourage all laboratories not currently participating in the program to join the NFLIS partnership.

Other NFLIS reports are also available for download on the NFLIS Reports Page.
